FOR E W O R D

THE past year at Barnard has been, to our thinking, the brightest in this half-spent decade. Unlike its predecessors, it has had none of that gloom and dull monotony that weighted so heavily on our minds. Quite miraculously, cynical resignation has been replaced by a feeling we hesitate to describe; perhaps it is a fusion of hope and sincere determination, tempered with a healthy wariness.

In 1929, while gazing absent-mindedly on some brilliant but remote star, we walked right off the end of a pier into a sea of misery. Four years had passed and we were still plunging down deeper and deeper through those dark waters. Quite suddenly, we found ourselves on the craggy sea floor, and the fearful downward journey was over. But the greatest surprise of all is that we have found down here something more valuable than that star we had been gazing at so fondly in our halcyon days. Gleaming up at us from its bed in the spidery ribs of an ancient galleon, is a golden doubloon, the lost heritage of the romantic spirit.

We must pocket this doubloon, for it holds for us that rare quality of derring-do, of courage and high endeavor, and will serve us as a good-luck piece. If we can only cling to this tenaciously, and wisely use what little breath is left to us, the upward passage will be an easy one. So to the Class of 1935, we say "Guid luck!", with the hope that that Romance that blossomed last on Cul-loden's field may find itself a second Bannockburn.

IN MEMORIAM

EDWARD WRIGHT SHELTON

Died: FEBRUARY 14, 1934

EDWARD WRIGHT SHELTON, who died on February 14th, 1934, had been a member of the Board of Trustees of Barnard College for thirty-eight years, having been elected on March 20th, 1896. He had thus helped the College grow from its very small beginnings to its present strength.

Mr. Sheldon was extremely wise and experienced in all matters of investment. For a large part of the time during which he was a Trustee he served as Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Board. To him we owe a debt of gratitude for the safe conserving of our resources.

Mr. Sheldon was a lawyer, and, during the latter part of his life, also a banker, for he held the positions of President and then Chairman of the Board of the United States Trust Company.

Besides Barnard, he served his own college, Princeton, as Trustee. Perhaps his most notable civic activity, however, was his service as Governor and President of the New York Hospital. In this connection he was largely responsible for the creation of the great New York Hospital-Cornell Medical School Centre.

He was also a Trustee and Treasurer of the New York Public Library, and Treasurer of the committee to collect funds for the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. In many other connections also he was a most useful citizen of New York.

A bachelor all his life, Mr. Sheldon was a cultivated gentleman of the old school, with charming and courtly manners, quiet and rather retiring. He would not accept office on our Board, except the Chairmanship of the Finance Committee. We shall greatly miss his friendly interest and his devoted care of our funds.

FREDERICK WINTHROP ALLEN

Died: NOVEMBER 25, 1933

FREDERICK WINTHROP ALLEN, who died on November 25th, 1933, was elected a Trustee of Barnard College on May 24th, 1928. He was associated with the firm of Lee, Higginson and Company. For reasons of health, during the last few years he was not active in Barnard affairs. The Board had been hoping to enjoy in future the benefit of his presence and his advice, and his death came as a serious loss to the College.

IN MEMORIAM

ADAM LEROY JONES

Died: MARCH 2, 1934

The death of Dr. Jones is a grievous blow to us all on Morningside Heights. Our hearts are sorrowful indeed. Dr. Jones was as nearly indispensable as any one academic officer can be. He had organized and practically created the work of university admissions, over which he presided, with broad and generous outlook, kindly human sympathy and the highest academic ideals.

The excellence of the student body in every part of the Columbia University educational system is, in chief measure, due to his policies and their administration. If 5,000 or 6,000 students are turned away from the university's doors each autumn, it is not because they are all unfit for admission, but rather because the university's resources are taxed to their utmost in caring for those who, by Dr. Jones's tests, are deemed to be still more fit.

Dr. Jones has left with us an enduring reputation as a college teacher of philosophy and as a university administrator of the first rank. He was a past master of all that concerns the relations between secondary school and college on the one hand, and those between American college and university faculties at home or abroad on the other.

Nicholas Murray Butler.

HÉLÈNE BIÉLER

Died: SEPTEMBER 12, 1933

Miss Hélène Biéler, Instructor in Romance Languages at Barnard College, died in New York on September 12. She was born in Lausanne on October 26, 1878, the daughter of Professor Samuel Biéler, D.Sc. After having attended the Ecole Supérieure de Lausanne (1890-95) and the Ecole Secondaire of Geneva (1895-98), from which she received the Diplôme d'Ecole Secondaire, she taught in Germany, England, France, and Italy from 1898-1910. In the latter year she was appointed Instructor of the French Language and Literature at McGill University, Canada, where she remained for nine years. In 1919 she was appointed Lecturer in French and Spanish at Barnard College, and was later advanced to the post she occupied at the time of her death. In 1922 Columbia University awarded her the M.A. degree. A gifted and devoted teacher, Miss Biéler asked no more than to give her life to the cause, and her fine character impressed itself upon her students and friends who mourn her loss.

Student Government at Barnard College plays an important part in the life of the student body. Each year, the Undergraduate Association, of which every student is a member, elects a Student Council and a Representative Assembly. Student Council, exercising executive powers, consists of the five Undergraduate officers, the class presidents, the president of the Dormitories, the president of the Athletic Association and the Editor of Bulletin. Representative Assembly, which exercises legislative powers, is composed of Student Council, the Presidents of the Clubs, the Editors and Business Managers of the publications chartered by the Association and the chairmen of standing committees. In addition to its executive function, Student Council strives for closer cooperation between the students and both the faculty and the alumnae, promotes relations with other colleges by sending delegates to the intercollegiate conferences, coordinates and supports student activities which are planned by various student organizations.

The Honor System was originally adopted by the Undergraduate Association at the suggestion of the students themselves. It has become a tradition of Barnard Student Government. The Honor Code states all phases of college work; all students are asked to sign the Code to indicate understanding of the system; violations are dealt with by the Honor Board, composed of a chairman and two members from each class, one elected, and the other appointed by the chairman. The success of the Honor System depends on the loyalty of the entire student body.

MISS ELIZABETH REID

Resident students are always asked, "How do you like living in a resident hall in the city?" The answer is, "We love it."

We are living in the largest city in the world, but ours is a small community sufficient unto itself. It is uncanny how one can avoid the bustling world outside by seeking refuge in Brooks or Hewitt, and yet when we want the theatre or the concert hall, the museum or the moving picture house we find them just outside.

When we pass through our green gate we leave the teeming metropolis and enter a new fascinating world where life is never dull. Here we play together, plan together, study together, exchange ideas. How many freshmen have stayed up till all hours settling the affairs of the world! Though their plans never materialize and their suggestions go for naught, their minds are enriched by the stimulation of interchanging thoughts.

We are all anxious to get out into the chaotic world. Our four years spent in Brooks or Hewitt among girls from all parts of the world will help us to acquire the broad views essential to success in this changing world.

Junior Prom

One of the most successful Junior Proms of the past few years was held on February 21 in the famous Japanese Room on the Roof of the Hotel St. Regis. From 10:00 to 2:30 an unusually large number of couples danced to the music of Johnny Strong's orchestra. The floor was lighted by alternating softly colored lights which were changed from time to time by the orchestra leader to suit the mood and tempo of the different numbers.

While supper was being served, members of the Prom committee distributed favors which were both distinctive and novel—silver band-bracelets with the Barnard seal for the girls, and belt buckles, also decorated with the seal, for the men.

The guests of the class were Dean Gildersleeve, Miss Weeks, Miss Kruger, and Professor and Mrs. Beveridge.

The unusual social and financial success of the affair was due to the enthusiasm and excellent work of Miss Roselle Riggan, social chairman of the class, and of her committee, which included the Misses Baumgartner, Dreyer, Goble, Goodman, Haller, Kluge, Strain and Wenzel. The Misses Strait and Creagh were members ex-officio.

The Junior Show of 1935 was an uproarious comic operetta, with Barnard as its setting and Gilbert and Sullivan's Iolanthe as its inspiration. The faculty, the Alumnae, the Columbia football team and the students danced and sang their way through its scenes. Careers at Macy's, and the Ideal Barnard student "marriage for convenience" to football heroes, date bureau and mass meetings on "Jake"—none were forgotten. The Occupation Bureau, the Dean, the President and the Greek Games Statue all joined forces for a hilarious evening. The music was principally that of Iolanthe, with new and sparkling lyrics, and a few original songs mixed in.

Frae Highlands and frae Lawlands
The bonnie lassies came;
They were braw¹ gallant lassies, and
Their nithers wept at hame.

Hey bonnie lassies o!

Twas known weel about the toun
The lassies' love o' fuid;
Sae wi' boilings and wi' toilings roun'
They had a banquet² guid.

Hey bonnie lassies o!

They paid their shillin's and a pund
And coft³ 'em lectures, pens, and bukes.
In vain the doctor turned 'em round
For angels ne'er had half their lukes.

Hey bonnie lassies o!

They studied hard these lassies gay
Through snawy blasts and rainy,
And still had nickle time for play
These Highland maids sae brainy.

Hey bonnie lassies o!

The cauld gang aff the burns and leas;
The lassies gave a party⁴
And got them lads with unco⁵ ease,
Braw lads and hearty.

Hey bonnie lassies o!

Twa years twa battles⁶ brought
Betwixt these maids and ithers, aye,
Doure battles and hard fought—
These lassies lost, o wae!

For every laddie loves a lass and every lass a laddie.

GREEK GAMES

*Thou only saw'st their tartans wave,
As down Benvoirlich's side they wound.
Heard'st but the pibroch answering brave
To many a target clanking round.*

Greek Games

By PROFESSOR CLARE HOWARD

Thirty years ago, when the Class of 1905 organized Greek Games, few realized what an inspired day it was. The clumsy white sheets, the rubber shoes, the awkward rough-and-tumble of that comic scene were the chrysalis from which was to emerge a winged beauty. It did not come suddenly, but year after year the experience of the Games caused new ideas, increasing ardor, till the dancing, the singing, the colors, were the perfect expression we beheld in the Class of 1935.

The Expression of Youth—that is what takes the breath of the spectator; for few realize, till they see this disciplined joy, what a vision of the ideal Youth possesses, and what power it has to reproduce the rhythm of the Classic Era. Those who have seen the participants in Greek Games as grubby children, pallid students, wrapped in lumpy coats or woolen sweaters, are amazed to watch them rise up like shafts of light in unclad, unabashed beauty, and float on faery feet through some grave rendering of an antique tale. The seriousness, the devoted unity of spirit, is what seems strange,—a revelation of what Youth really wants. Only William Blake understood:

*“Where the youth pin’d away with desire,
And the pale virgin, shrouded in snow,
Arise from their graves, and aspire
Where my sunflower wishes to go”*

Greek Games Entrance

Slowly the townspeople of Delphi are wending their way toward the great Temple of Apollo, carrying their humble offerings of fruit, grain and frankincense. It is the day of the Pythian Games, when all the people join in a festival of thanksgiving for Apollo's victory over the hideous dragon, Python. They will also do honor to Apollo as the God of Prophecy and leader of the nine Muses. Enthusiasm runs high for there will be contests in music, lyrics, dancing, athletics, and as a climax, a thrilling chariot race. The chief townsmen lead the procession, followed by the dancers drawing the draped chariots and athletes walking in a stately procession. The contestants pause to listen in reverence to the invocation of the priestesses.

DANCE OF THE CLASS OF 1935

Marsyas, the Satyr, was renowned for the wonderful notes he could draw from a flute. Before the temple of Apollo he is playing, causing a group of wood folk to do their merriest dances. In the midst of their fuss, Apollo himself, the mighty god of music, comes down from the temple attended by the Muses. He is scornful of the flute's trivial melodies. Marsyas, infuriated, does a thing terrible for anyone as lowly as a satyr. He challenges the god to a musical contest with the attending groups as judges. Apollo proudly accepts the challenge, but should Marsyas be defeated, the penalty is death.

The contest begins. The judges are swayed first by the delicate flute, then by the powerful lyre. They are closely matched, but slowly, first the Muses, then the followers of Marsyas, are won over by the playing of the god. As final evidence of his victory they rush and surround Apollo. He, however, in the midst of his glory, does not forget the unhappy Marsyas. Aware of his impending fate, Marsyas flees, closely pursued even by those whom so recently he has charmed with his delightful music.

Apollo, the great lover and sun-god, sees Cupid boasting to Diana and her huntresses of his great skill with the bow and arrow. He scorns Cupid's ability to wield the bow, which enrages the little god. He pierces Apollo with a shaft of love, and Daphne, one of the huntresses, with a shaft to repel love.

Apollo woos Daphne, chasing her through the fields till she falls from exhaustion. She prays to Diana, who changes her into the form of a laurel tree. Apollo is filled with grief, and in memory of her dedicates the laurel as a sign of victory in the Olympic Games.

Winning Lyric

Now, lord of morning, and of music lord,
We fashion pacans in the praise of thee
And make our prayers with human wonder stored—
Receive this prayer, accept this melody.

Thy noon is on us, and the dancing mood,
Our far tumultuous echoes ride the sky.
May these, our gestures, in thine eyes be good
And may thy light remain with us thereby.

Thou too art young, thou too hast known the lyre,
Take to thyself our kindred ecstasies.
For us who draw our premises from fire
In thee alone the great conclusion is.

EDITH KANE, 1935.

*But ye whom social pleasure charms,

My friends, my brothers!*

Columbia University has among its social groups three Newman Clubs which were organized for the benefit of Catholic students. The Graduate Club draws its members from Teachers College, the Columbia and Barnard Newman Clubs from their respective colleges.

The Newman Club of Barnard College has for its major purpose the development of the spiritual, intellectual and social good of its members. Meetings of the club are held on the second and fourth Mondays of each month. Prominent speakers address the groups at this time. In addition Newman House holds informal coffee hour on the second Sunday evening of each month, to enable the members of the three clubs to meet one another. The members have the use of a library, reception hall, and chapel in Newman Hall which is located at 115th Street. Father Ford, the adviser of Newman Club, is always ready to help Catholic students with their problems.

Wycliffe Club

VIOLET HOPWOOD President
 EDYTHE GAUDY Vice-President

RUTH OLSEN Secretary
 ARMENY DIKLIJAN Treasurer

The Wycliffe Club, whose first year of existence this is, is a club for Barnard students of denominations which are not large enough to form separate organizations.

The aim of the club is to keep the students in touch with religion and some religious activities. There is one particular day, Friday, on which the members of a group go to Chapel, after which they have lunch and an informal meeting in the Barnard lunchroom. The club has teas during the year, with prominent and interesting speakers, and it frequently has discussion groups on Friday afternoons.

The Wycliffe Club has endeavored to cooperate with the Protestant organizations, and has given several joint teas with them.

Wigs and Cues, the dramatic organization of Barnard College, has for its aims and purpose the promotion of a high standard of college dramatics in the choice of plays, in acting, in staging, lighting and costuming; it desires on the whole to give those interested in the drama an opportunity of gaining knowledge and experience in the dramatic arts.

Students are elected to membership on the basis of dramatic ability shown in try-out plays given under the auspices of Wigs and Cues, or in any other dramatic activities presented to the college at large.

This year Wigs and Cues inaugurated its new policy of free admission to the Fall production. It presented George Bernard Shaw's Androcles and the Lion under the direction of Miss Agnes Morgan, which played to large and enthusiastic audiences for two evening performances.

Classical Club

ISABELLE KELLY President AUGUSTA SIMON Vice-President
DOROTHEA MELVIN Secretary and Treasurer

The first club to be founded at Barnard was the Classical Club. It has strived to keep up its original standard of excellence. In its roster are included undergraduates, alumnae, and members of the faculty. The opening function given to its members by Professor G. M. Hirst is a tea, which always proves to be a most delightful occasion. Monthly lectures and teas follow this. Speakers are persons pre-eminent in the fields of knowledge of the life, literature and art of Greece and Rome.

German Club

ELLEN JACOBSON President
 ALINE JOVESHOF Secretary

OLGA HALLER Treasurer
 MARGARET WEISS Publicity

For all students interested in the German language, culture and "Gemütlichkeit" we have the Deutscher Kreis. Most of the meetings are held in the German Room in Brinkerhoff Hall in order that we may have the correct atmosphere. Recently the large attendance has brought us to the Barnard Social Rooms. The Luther celebration in conjunction with Columbia and the annual Christmas party were the highlights of the year. These were charmingly supplemented by afternoons devoted to German songs and games or to noted speakers on topics of general interest.

At present the members are planning another play similar to the ones given in past years (Ein Besserer Herr, Sturm in Wasserglas).

Since 1925 the Deutscher Kreis has shared in the benefit of a fund given to Barnard College by the late Edward D. Adams to be used at the discretion of the German department, "for the purpose of bringing German life and civilization closer to the appreciation of American students and of furthering mutual understanding and good will between the youth of both countries."

El Circulo Hispano brings together those interested in the language, peoples, and culture of Spain and Hispanic countries through a series of teas, lectures, dramatics, and other entertainments. Every month the club meets to hear some outstanding Spaniard speak on a certain phase of Spanish life. Plays by well known Spanish writers are given in the Winter semester to make the members more familiar with the language and culture of Spain. A large dance is held in the Spring for the benefit of the Spanish scholarship which sends an outstanding student of Spanish abroad each year to study in The Central University at Madrid.

This year the club had a week-end at the new Barnard Camp. The members enjoyed themselves immensely by cooking Spanish food, which proved to be quite a novelty.

The club has the use of a room in the Casa de las Espanas where the members may meet to chat or read, have tea, or entertain.

 LUCY APPLETON Concert Manager
 MARJORIE SNEVILY Assistant Secretary

The Barnard Glee Club is assuming a role of increasing importance in the extra-curricular affairs of the college. It aims to give its members training in singing some of the best choral music and to help broaden their intellectual and artistic interests.

On November 4, the third annual concert and dance was given in Barnard Hall. Frank Sheriden and John Erskine were the assisting artists. A program including among other selections two of Bach's cantatas, a Russian Centenary Cantata arranged by Professor Beveridge and a song recently written by Daniel Gregory Mason was well received.

A second concert was given in December in conjunction with the Columbia Glee Club and University Orchestra, with Chalmers Clifton as guest conductor.

Howard Hanson's The Lament for Beowulf was sung. This was especially significant because it was the first performance of the composition in this country.

Aside from these concerts the Glee Club has also sung informally at its teas, and the Christmas Assembly.

The calendar for the year also included a concert on March 23, at which Brahms' Requiem was sung. This is by far the most ambitious program we have yet attempted but under the splendid direction of Professor Beveridge success attended its presentation.

The Glee Club invites all who are interested to try out for membership.

Social Science Forum

ROSE MAURER SOMERVILLE*President*

CAROLYN COLLVER*Treasurer*

DR. JANE P. CLARK*Faculty Adviser*

ELEANOR GOLDBERGER*Secretary*

BLANCHE GOLDMAN*Publicity*

The Social Science Forum was fortunate in the possibilities afforded it in 1933-1934 to fulfill its aim of giving "students of government, history, sociology, and economics an opportunity to discuss current topics of interest in those fields." The election in New York City provided the subject of a political symposium in the College Parlor at which Langdon Post, Senator Sheridan and S. Sawyer LeVay spoke before 150 interested students and faculty members. The municipal election also gave members of the Forum an opportunity to learn about politics at first hand by working for the various parties at campaign headquarters throughout the city and serving as watchers on registration and election days. The recognition of Russia, the wave of lynching sweeping the country, the European crisis, the New Deal program, and other important developments on the national and international scene provided the topics for informal luncheon meetings at which speakers of authority aroused active and enthusiastic student participation in discussion.

Debate Club

ANGELINE BOUCHARD.....President

ELEANOR SCHMIDT.....Secretary-Treasurer

The Barnard Debating Club was organized in 1932 by a group of students who were interested in two things—first, to learn how to speak in public, to argue logically, and to develop mental keenness through the interchange of ideas; second, to increase their knowledge on subjects of present-day interest, with special reference to economic and political problems of international scope.

The war debts have found particular favor among the members in the spring semester 1933-34. A series of debates has been planned on the probability of European war. The question of Austrian Independence will first be discussed. Franco-German, Franco-Italian and Italo-German relations will be taken up.

As to the form of debate, the club is trying to get away from the formal mode which has been prevalent in America during the last few years, and to develop instead a more flexible form of discussion.

The Debate Club is open to all and will be glad to welcome any new members.

Lutheran Club

DORETTA C. THIELKER	President	DOROTHY NOWA	Secretary
ELEANOR MAACK	Vice-President	HELEN FRANKLE	Treasurer
ELIZABETH HAYES	Publicity

The Barnard Lutheran Club is a member of The Lutheran Student Association of Greater New York. The club has for its aims the bringing together of Lutherans in closer friendship, for group spiritual activity, and so to enrich the entire college life.

The club gives several teas a year to outstanding Lutheran men and women, who speak about their work and with whom they later participate in discussion groups, thus combining social and intellectual activity with religious interest. It also gives joint teas with other Barnard religious groups in order to encourage true fellowship among the students and members of other beliefs. It has chosen Thursday as its Chapel Day as have the Episcopalians. The members have also undertaken some social work among the poor. An invitation to the college is always cordially extended.

RUTH SABERSKI	Vice-President	STELLA GOLDSTEIN	Publicity

The Barnard Menorah Society aims at providing the Jewish student with the opportunities of studying the historical and contemporary phases of Jewish cultural life. All aspects of the Jewish contribution to the arts and sciences and the body-politics are reviewed by distinguished leaders of these various fields. The relation of the Jew to the rest of the world has become doubly important in recent years and special emphasis has been laid by the club on this vital problem.

Rabbi Braunstein, Counselor of Jewish students at Earl Hall, is an active leader of Menorah activities. He has stressed the importance of festival consideration and closer contact with the Jewish world beyond college walls.

The Menorah is non-sectarian and welcomes all students to its meetings.

French Club

NATALIE DROZDOFF	President
CHARLOTTE BOYKIN	Vice-President
DOROTHY NOWA	Secretary
ANNABELLE CHAZANOFF	Treasurer

The Société Française of Barnard College is a club which teaches students in the most painless way how to acquire that nonchalant fluency a Frenchman has when speaking his own language. The club meets once a week in Hewitt Hall for lunch or tea to discuss politics, art, or anything, as long it is discussed in French. At these meetings the students soon grow fluently French while proving their pet theories or describing some vacation.

This year it held a soirée for the benefit of a French scholarship which sends a deserving Barnard senior to study at the Sorbonne for a year. During the evening a play was given, La Chambre Bleue, written by three members of the club, Natalie Drozdoff, Annabelle Chazanoff, and Dorothy Nowa. It was beautifully produced and well received by a large audience. Dancing followed, and the evening was a great success.

The club also had the pleasure at one of their fall teas of hearing M. Dondeau lecture on the history of marionettes. He showed several which quite fascinated the audience.

Italian Club

CARMELA ROMANIELLO	President
HELEN ROBINSON	Secretary
RUTH WILCOXSON	Publicity Manager

The aim of the Italian Club is to organize an active group of Barnard students who are interested in Italian culture. Informal bi-monthly meetings are held where the members carry on discussions in Italian or sing Italian folk songs.

The club has given three teas: the first was held at the Casa Italiana, where the students were addressed by Professor Prezzolini. Another tea was given in honor of Arturo Loria, a noted contemporary Italian author who is visiting New York. The club next gave a tea in honor of Professor Marshall of the English Department, who spoke on the influence of Italy on English poets. A Sacra Rappresentazione by an anonymous author of the Seventeenth Century was the contribution of the Italian Club to the Christmas Festival given by the Romance Language Clubs. The club, together with the Music Department, presented a program of Italian Renaissance music under the direction of Professor Beveridge. The proceeds were given towards the Student Loan Fund of the college.

Music Club

HELEN M. FEENEY	President
BARBARA POINTER	Secretary
HELEN HERSHFIELD	Business Manager

The Music Club is an organization which is fostering the development of musical interests and activities at Barnard College. By a series of social events it has been bringing together students and faculty who like music. It has bought concert subscription tickets for its members and has given the college opportunities to hear Barnard musicians as well as guest musicians, composers, and critics at its various teas. It has its own ensemble which it lends to other clubs upon request. Membership is open not only to undergraduates who can play a musical instrument but also to those who want to discover what Barnard is doing and thinking about music.

The most outstanding events sponsored during the year have been the presentation, first, of the Arian String Quartet playing Professor Douglas Moore's "Quartet," and second, of Olin Downes as a speaker for college assembly. Other activities have included two recitals by Barnard students and a trip to hear Lucia d'Ammermoor.

The members have been pleased at the interest in the club which has been shown by outsiders; and although undergraduate support is not as great as it might be, they feel that they are doing the college a service by stimulating activity in a field which up to now has received all too little attention at Barnard.

International Club

MARGARET R. WEISS	President	SONYA TURITZ	Secretary
SHEILA PORTEOUS	Vice-President	HILDA KNOBLOCK	Treasurer
NATALIE DROZDOFF	Social Chairman

The International Club exists for the purpose of fostering greater understanding and friendship between foreign and American students. It is hoped that the contacts and intimacies formed through the meetings, teas, discussions and lectures given by the club will do much to acquaint the foreign students with American customs and will also bring about a more friendly American feeling toward the manners and modes of living of foreigners. Many of the teas are purely social in character and are given over to the presentation of the national songs and dances of some country that is well represented in the membership of the club. Other meetings are devoted to talks by noted speakers on international relations or cultural developments in a particular country.

The Dean's Committee of Twenty-five

MARION GREENEBAUM.....Chairman

DOROTHY ATLEE.....Secretary

RACHEL GIERHART

Representative from Student Council

The Committee of Twenty-Five was organized last year with the primary purpose of serving as a means of contact between the student body on the one side, and Student Council and the Dean on the other. Its aim throughout the year has been to tap student opinion on various matters of college administration and organization and on projected activities; and to attempt to arouse interest among the students. The committee has made suggestions to Student Council in line with the wishes of the Undergraduate Association and has assisted in relaying the work of Student Council to the college at large. This group is composed of twenty-five girls, appointed by Student Council, who are as nearly as possible representative of all classes and all groups in the student body. They are chosen from among those girls who are keenly interested in student affairs and who have a wide circle of acquaintances, but who have not in the past held any important offices in the undergraduate body.

Aside from these rather vague duties, the Committee of Twenty-Five has assisted at required assemblies, and has sponsored the Penny-a-Meal drive for charity, and the Spring All-College Dance for the benefit of the scholarship fund.

College Assemblies

SARA GEHMAN Chairman

Professor Wilhelm Braun kindly gave his supervision and aid to the work of the Assembly Committee for the year 1933-34.

This year the policy of requiring the entire college to attend four assemblies was continued. Dean Gildersleeve made the official opening address at the first required assembly in the fall. Professor John Deinley Prince spoke at the second of these assemblies; he explained present-day conditions in the Balkan States and closed with a delightful ten minutes of playing and singing Yugoslavian music. President Butler conducted the opening assembly of the second semester. The ceremony of installation of officers for the year 1934-35 took place at the final required assembly in the spring. This was the first time that attendance at this ceremony was made compulsory; many of the students and faculty considered it an occasion worthy of being signalized in this way.

The annual Thanksgiving service, held in the University chapel, took place during one of the Barnard assembly hours. The custom was also continued of having the Glee Club take charge of the last assembly before Christmas. Carols were sung, both by the Glee Club and the entire assembly, under the direction of Professor Lowell Beveridge; holly was distributed to everyone.

The Athletic Association had charge of one assembly, which was made compulsory for freshmen and transfers.

Two hours were given over to an explanation of the NRA. Professor Moley gave the inside story of the history of the movement, and Leo Waldman explained its activities.

This year for the first time the newly-organized Music Club sponsored an assembly at which Olin Downes spoke on the feasibility of teaching music and music criticism.

The speaker at International Assembly was Professor Parker T. Moon, who lectured and answered questions on the possibilities of avoiding war.

The above-mentioned assemblies were all arranged under the direction of Professor Braun. Attendance even at unrequired assemblies was gratifyingly large. Special mention should be made of the kindness of Helen Feeney in providing music for required assemblies; and of the help of Doretta Thielker, the board of Senior Proctors, and the Committee of Twenty-Five in checking attendance.

Freshman Day

ROSELLE RIGGIN Chairman

It is altogether fitting that the first social activity of the academic year be devoted to the incoming class. For it is at the Freshman Luncheon that the new students are given a first hand opportunity to become acquainted with the many aspects of the life which Barnard offers them in the future. Leaders of the various student activities as well as members of the faculty address the guests and seek to initiate them into the ways and means of undergraduate pursuits.

Dean Gildersleeve welcomed the Class of 1937 at the Freshman Luncheon which took place late in September. Assistant Dean Gregory, Miss Weeks, Dr. Alsop, the Reverend Wendell Phillips and Miss Margaret Gristede, Undergraduate President, extended the greetings of their own particular branches of the administration.

Following the luncheon, Miss Gristede presided at the first Freshman Class meeting. Various aspects of the extra-curricular activities were explained by Catherine Strateman, Honor Board Chairman, Helen Flanagan, A. A. president, Rachel Gierhart, Suzanne Strait and Jane Eisler, presidents of the Senior, Junior and Sophomore classes respectively. After several college songs had been sung under the leadership of Beatrice Sheer, the Freshmen were escorted to the gymnasium, where part of last year's Greek Games were presented. The beauty and spirit of the exhibition arranged by Vivian Tenney aroused the enthusiasm of even upperclassmen used to the thrill of the actual spectacle. Because of rain, tea was served in the gymnasium instead of on the North Terrace.

Roselle Rigglin, Chairman of Freshman Day, was assisted by Dorothy Haller, Gerarda Green and Vivian Tenney. Hostesses chosen from the Classes of '34, '35 and '36, served throughout the year as advisers to their group of Freshmen. It was felt that the upperclassmen, by functioning as guides intermediate to faculty advisers and Junior sisters, would help the new students in adjusting themselves to the scholastic and extra-curricular life of the college.

College Teas

MARGARET GOBLE Chairman

The weekly college tea plays no small part in the undergraduate life of Barnard, combining as it does educational as well as social features. It is here that dormitory and day students alike are given the opportunity of becoming acquainted with each other and with members of the faculty. Furthermore, the tea is frequently taken over by clubs who provide special features in the form of speakers, exhibitions and recitals. Thus the Deutscher Kreis and the French and Spanish Clubs have at various times sponsored novelty programs relevant to their respective interests. This year there was an additional attraction, an exhibition of the sketchings of a well-known artist who also addressed the guests.

The Alumnae have in recent years undertaken the responsibility for several teas during the academic year. The undergraduate body has been especially responsive to these events which are usually attended by distinguished figures in the dramatic and musical worlds. The Alumnae also are hostesses to the members of the Senior class before Commencement.

The useful aspects of the teas have been demonstrated by the popularity of the Vocational Teas. Graduates who have attained success in their chosen fields of endeavor are the guests of the students, address them briefly, and generally advise interested students. Politics, business and the teaching profession were stressed this year.

The college teas are a daily event throughout the period of examinations. Otherwise they are held every Wednesday afternoon from four to five-thirty o'clock in the College Parlor. The students are especially urged to extend personal invitations to members of the faculty.

For the past several years it has been the custom during the winter semester to conduct a drive for the purpose of supporting an International Scholarship Fund.

Every Spring a committee consisting of faculty representatives and the undergraduate president put forth a list of candidates from the Senior Class, one of whom, elected by popular vote, receives the Scholarship. It is then her privilege to attend any foreign university she wishes to do graduate work in her own field.

When the fund is sufficiently large, a second scholarship is awarded to a foreign student of promise to spend a year at Barnard.

It has been the purpose of these scholarships to help create a feeling of co-operation and unity between students of all countries. For this reason Student Fellowship is one of the most important activities undertaken by the Undergraduate Organization.

Gena Temney, '33, studying at the Royal College of Music in London, is the present Barnard Fellow. Sheila Porteous of New Zealand is the Foreign Student.

N. S. F. A.

The National Students' Federation of America held its annual congress at Washington during Christmas vacation. This organization is one of the most important of its kind, formed to give students from all parts of the country the opportunity to exchange opinions on problems peculiar to college life, as well as on those of national and international importance. Campus matters of every description were brought up for discussion, and well-known Congressmen spoke on subjects of interest to students of government, economics and sociology.

The contact with other delegates from colleges in different parts of the country was invaluable, because it showed the provincialism that American students must overcome in order to take their stand as a unit. This alone would justify the existence of the N. S. F. A. Aside from this there are many practical and more material benefits to be gained from membership in this organization.

A local N. S. F. A. committee has been organized at Barnard for the first time this year, and it is hoped that through this committee, the college will keep in close contact with the central office, and with other member colleges.

The Barnard delegates this year were Diana Campbell and Suzanne Strait.

Silver Bay

GERTRUDE RUBSAMEN, '35. Chairman of Delegation

Last June, in a beautiful setting among the hills around Lake George, twenty Barnard students and delegates from all the New England Women's Colleges met together at the annual Silver Bay Conference—to discuss the World situation and our responsibility as students. In the mornings recognized leaders conducted fascinating discussions on racial, social, religious and personal issues of the day. Afternoons were free for riding, tennis, swimming, in fact, anything one's heart desired. Barnard even managed to challenge Rochester to a baseball game, but lived to regret it!

Evenings were fun, too. The Barnard delegation will probably never forget the Song Contest, or Stunt Night for which it rehearsed so feverishly. And after the evening meeting there was that unforgettable little chapel service which everyone enjoyed so much.

But simply a description of the program for the conference couldn't possibly give the real significance of Silver Bay. There is something deeper, something which is almost impossible to describe that must always be associated with Silver Bay. Perhaps it is the experience of being a part of a great gathering of students all searching for a practical philosophy of life. Perhaps it is the encouragement received, or the new friendships made. Whatever it may be, anyone who has ever gone to Silver Bay feels she has shared in an unusual experience. Barnard considered it a privilege to have been able to attend the conference.

The Athletic Association at Barnard is a student organization whose prime purpose is to stimulate college-wide participation in athletic activities on the campus. Every registered student automatically becomes a member of A. A., whose elected Executive Board meets regularly to discuss college athletic problems and to plan various popular events such as Play Day, the Posture Contest, and the numerous tournaments. All possible efforts are made to realize the slogan, "A game for every girl and a girl for every game."

The basketball season, one of the major events of the sports year at Barnard, starts in October and extends throughout the fall semester, with competition in interclass and odd-even games.

The culmination of every basketball season is the

All-Star-Alumnae Game, in which the best players of the entire college are matched with selected alumnae team. This year's game, which attracted great interest, was won, after a hard-fought battle, by the undergraduates.

PLAY DAY

This year, Play Day was held on October 26th, as one of the events of Play Week. Down on the south terrace, people got very excited about a round-robin volleyball tournament, but they could not out-yell the Freshmen who were playing six passes on the north terrace. The other girls were divided into six color teams which kept scores, the winning team being handsomely rewarded with tops which no one seemed able to spin.

When everyone was sufficiently tired and frozen, we all got together for an apple treasure hunt—and were those apples good! After the last apple was rooted from its hiding place, everyone munched them and watched the winning volleyball team go down to glorious defeat before the faculty team in the finale of an afternoon full of fun for everyone who participated.

Barnard Camp

Busses, cars—and perhaps even hikers!—crowded the roads that led through Ossining and up to Journey's End Road on the fifteenth of last October. The day was bright and clear, and when the travelers came to their destination, all felt the thrill of having found a treasure at the end of a hunt. As they climbed the last winding lane, there burst upon them a view of an ideal accomplished—a new Barnard Camp.

It was an exciting day, with trustees, alumnae, and students mingling in a happy informality. Some arrived bright and early and picnicked in the birch grove or on the rocks. Others arrived in time to inspect every nook and cranny before the dedication exercises. Then, in an impressive ceremony on the porch before about four hundred friends, the symbolic "Key to Camp" was passed on by Miss Helen Erskine, president of the Alumnae Association, to Dean Gildersleeve; then to Miss Holland, camp adviser; and finally to Delphine Dowling, student camp chairman.

Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Meyer were guests of honor and heard much praise of their generous gift of the living room furnishings which were bestowed in memory of their daughter.

With such an auspicious start, Camp could not help but attract the hundreds of students who had spent that one day in the Westchester hills—for Camp certainly is in the hills. Nestled in a clearing with high "mountains" and rambling trails surrounding it on all sides, Camp commands a view of many miles, with even the western side of the Hudson visible at times.

There is no planned "routine" at Camp. On any cheery Saturday morning, ten or fifteen girls who have arrived the afternoon before may wake up sniffing the coffee which some hungry camper has started perking. Hopping out of their bunks, they eat a hearty breakfast, tidy up the rooms, chop wood for the stove, pump some water, and, perhaps, start out on a five mile hike. Some stay behind to study, or read for pleasure, or get an extra hour's rest.

Luncheon comes shortly after noon, with additional "boarders" who arrive for the week-end. In the afternoon there is a choice between more hiking, or more studying, or perhaps a good game of teniquoit or baseball. If the weather is cold, the skis and skates and sleds are out.

The supper bell calls a hungry troop together from their varied adventures. Such hospitality was never seen! Plates piled high with steaming meat and vegetables, a salad, a surprise dessert. The diners linger long over their coffee cups, and a good two hours later, when dishes are cleared away, an evening of indoor games and comfortable fire-side chats is begun.

When stillness finally settles over Camp, it is a group of happy, healthy, sleepy girls who stretch out in their bunks and dream about—well, was it the Good Fairy herself who gave these Barnardites their long-desired Camp?

SOPHOMORE ENTERTAINMENT

Chairman ROSELLE RIGGIN

Chairman of Rehearsals

GERTRUDE RUBSAMEN

VIVIAN TENNEY

This year the Sophomores carried out the decorative motif dominant in the Hewitt Hall dining room, which was cleverly adorned with cutout, appliqued animals, by giving a lively circus. The waitresses were dressed in appropriate costumes, the programs were checked gingham with "Senior Circus" written across them, the atmosphere was carnival and suggested confetti.

The formal part of the evening's entertainment consisted of a grand march and a number of hilarious and untrained acts. Vivian Tenney made a swell master of ceremonies in a tux, a goatee and a very convincing foreign accent. This cast first paraded about to the accompaniment of huzzas from the Seniors and envious smiles from those unhappy Sophomores, who had been either too hot or too lazy to come to rehearsal. After that, most appropriately, came a trained seal act, in which Elizabeth Hayes and Terry Haines as the seals, did a history of the dance. Natalie Bachrach shone as a tightrope walker and bareback rider. Georgiana Remer, as a cowboy, yodeled a savage stuffed bear into a state of comparative calm. Vivian Tenney's dog constituted one nice act, Diana Campbell and Sue Strait, as gay, tumbling clowns, another. The grand finale to the Sophomore circus was a pony ballet, which hoofed it to the tune of "Shuffle Off to Buffalo."

This Annual was produced at the plant of THE SCHILLING PRESS, Inc., New York, who, since 1910, have been making outstanding books for every well-known college and school in the East.

- Indicative of the high esteem in which Schilling Press year books are held is the recent "All-American Award" given the 1933 HOWITZER, printed by this organization for the United States Military Academy at West Point.
- This highest of all awards was made by the National Scholastic Press Association at their annual yearbook contest, held at the University of Minnesota, where books from every part of the United States were entered.
- If you are interested in making your annual a finer publication, communicate with us.

The Scottish costume with its picturesque breacon-feile, kilt, sporran and tam o'shanter is rapidly being replaced with modern European dress. In fact, much to the grievance of lovers of local color, European dress bids fair to become the style in all the civilized world. Commerce and travel make this inevitable. Notional tastes and ethics, however, remain fairly constant and characterize different peoples. There is a pertinent comparison here with printing plates. In appearance, all halftones and line etchings are very much alike, but, into some are infused the refined taste and art of their producers. The printing press evinces these fine qualities which denote the reputation of the plate-maker. For over thirty years "Sterling" engravings have produced "Sterling Results" in letterpress printing. The illustrations in this book were printed from Sterling engravings.

A NOTE ON THE TYPE IN WHICH THIS BOOK IS SET

This book is composed (on the linotype) in Scotch. There is a divergence of opinion regarding the exact origin of this face, some authorities holding that it was first cut by Alexander Wilson & Son, of Glasgow, in 1837; others trace it back to a modernized Caslon old style brought out by Mrs. Henry Caslon in 1796 to meet the demand for modern faces resulting from the popularity of the Bodoni types. Whatever its origin, it is certain that the face was widely used in Scotland, where it was called Modern Roman, and since its introduction into America it has been known as Scotch. The essential characteristics of the Scotch face are its sturdy capitals, its full rounded lower case, the graceful filler of its serifs, and the general effect of crispness.
